THE SPECTATOR

Wake Up! Dress Up, Narberth! There's Keen Competition Ahead

When the photographer was here some weeks ago to take pictures which subsequently appeared in the Inquirer, he came laden with instructions from his editor as to exactly what scenes were wanted and the manner in which they should be "shot". Inevitably, the directions called for a view of the "shopping district", but the photographer was an astute fellow. He said that if he took our business section as it actually was it would result in rather adverse publicity for Narberth. He therefore contrived, in order to comply with his boss' orders, a quite innocuous picture of Haverford Avenue which had as much sparkle to it as wet mud, but which did succeed in hiding the distressing reality from the outside world.

Perhaps the time for one to best inform himself as to how drab and dismal our business street has become is early on a Sunday morning, when there is none of the usual activity that helps to screen the stark ugliness of the scene and the glaring defects which will surely spell disaster to the borough as a shopping center unless something is done about them quickly.

Of course, our residents at large have an interest at stake which transcends that of the merchants themselves, as this sort of down-at-the-heel and forlorn condition at the very heart of the town has a definite influence on values generally, not to mention the direct thrust at that esthetic balance of things which should characterize an enlightened suburban community of Narberth's claims and opportunities.

As for the merchants, they must realize that competition is crowding in on them from all sides and that the sellers' market which has existed since the war started has not many more months to go. By that time the new stores now being erected in nearby places, along with those which are known to be in the plans of large retailers for this environment, are bound to challenge the best skill of our local tradesmen.

What are they going to do to retain and increase that business which they now have from outside the borough and which is said to be nearly one-and-a-half times the purchases of Narberth householders?

It would seem there could be nothing more important in the considerations of the Business Council than this insistent need of a modern business rialto, with all the alert and orderly type of store-keeping that goes with such an advanced status. And who has to be told of the kind of beating the average housewife has had to take these recent years, in her endeavors to feed her family—the take-it-or-leave-it attitude she almost daily encountered, and the quite understandable desire she has to regain her natural position as a patron whose trade is sought for and appreciated.

Unquestionably, there is going to be a big shift of custom on this score alone and the shopping section which will not prepare for the new winds that will soon blow is bound to come afloat in favor of the enterprising operators who more accurately read the signs of a highly competitive future.

The articles in recent magazines and trade journals regarding face-lifting programs in the business streets of towns in California, New York State and elsewhere suggest the kind of format necessary for the local rehabilitation process which is sure to prove of enduring worth. It will all cost money, of course, but it will be money exceedingly well spent. With capable cooperation, along with an imagination that will keep this side of the horizon, there is the opportunity of again demonstrating distinctive leadership and of making the provinces aware that Narberth does not spend most of its time in sleep. The record of local attainment is already fair enough, even outstanding in some respects, and this call to continue on the same progressive path should not go unheeded.

The first expense would be for an authentic draft of what can come to pass. It is said architectural experts are willing to do that for $1,500 or $2,000. The National Bank of Narberth has indicated it will contribute $500 to such a fund. Our Town will donate $100, and several citizens are willing to give a similar sum.

The merchants, of course, would be depended on to give the major amount, perhaps $1,000, and it would be quite the right idea if a modest official appropriation were made by Borough Council. Local activities which have a real concern for the best estate of the community could also be expected to help.

Once the general plan is approved, the improvement could start, loans if needed being provided by the local bank on an attractive basis when such transactions correspond with reasonable banking requirements. The news is that the chief eye-sore will be corrected instantly if there is a disposition to make a grand job of the entire section.

Also it could come to pass that the recreational space sought by the veterans could occur on Haverford Avenue, second floor rooms and auditorium over the single-story stores due for rejuvenation. That feature of the case might have a particular interest for the gentlemen of the Legion, but whether it does or not it is hoped that they will lend their aid in the rescue mission which beckons and do what they can to help achieve a more creditable and more sightly scene than now exists.

The same request is made to all other Narberth organizations and to civic-minded men and women who comprehend that things thrive in the environment intended for them, only when there is an earnest will and an effective way to have it so.

There will be an open meeting over October when the general subject will be discussed and an endeavor made to secure agreement on the plans which may be in order. Meanwhile, it would be helpful if town talk centered on the topic and if letters were written which would advance the project in view.

Both men were elected to the Board of Directors of the group.

Narberth Scouts Exhibit Projects

Full Scale Models Shown at Cub Pack Meeting

Opening the monthly meeting of Narberth's Cub Scout Pack in the Narberth School Auditorium on Friday evening, September 27, Cubmaster S. K. Barclay, 503 Haverford Ave., told the Cubs and their parents that the exhibit lining the front of the auditorium were engineering projects built by the boys in conjunction with national Cub Scout theme for the month of September.

Cub Den No. 1 exhibited a model army camp with quonset huts made of tin cans and a complement of tiny soldiers with jeeps and trucks. Den No. 2 offered a scale model of the Narberth community baseball field including the scoreboard, grandstands and a replica of the war memorial. Den No. 3 presented a model of Philadelphia's Southwest Airport on a scale of 1 inch equivalent to 150 feet and showing hangers, planes and other equipment.

Den No. 4 had two exhibits an army camp which the boys chose to name "Camp Barclay" complete with hospital equipment, and to prove that they were also capable full-scale engineers, a sturdy coat rack made of steel pipe for the Den's meeting room.

The boys of Den No. 5 brought a variety of examples of their engineering talents including a model electric jig-saw, a traveling crane, an airplane, and a tiny billiard table with marbles for balls.

Cubmaster Barclay announced that the Narberth Pack is well on its way to becoming a "Red Star Pack," an honor awarded by the National Office to packs which meet a rigid set of requirements for a full year. Barclay presented special awards for completing prescribed summer achievements to 40 of the boys as well as to each of the five dens as units.

After reviewing the major Cub activities of the summer season which included a circus, a picnic outing at Perkiomen Park and 19 baseball games with other Cub teams of the Main Line League, Barclay complimented the team for its good sportsmanship and good record. The team has won 9 games, lost 10, and closed the season by tying for third place in the league.

For the month of October, plans were outlined to feature a waste paper collection drive on the Saturdays of October 5th and 12th to raise funds for financing Cub activities. The drive is to repeat a similar effort made last spring. The Pack meeting on October 25 will be a Halloween party with prizes for the most original, most comical and most timely costumes.

Before the meeting closed with the showing of a motion picture on football, Cubmaster Barclay presented badges for advancement in rank and special achievements to 18 members of the Pack's forty-five Cubs and inducted three new members.

The report is expected to discuss long-range plans for the use of undeveloped land on the Main Line for home building.

Town Talk

... Being a Column of
Chatter About People
You Know ...

By DOROTHY M. OGDEN

Well, the biggest news around the Boro this week is that J. Paul Shea, 19 years an eminent druggist here, has bought out the business of L. Stanley King in Cynwyd. Paul is the man who gets things done around this town, and Cynwyd is expecting him to do the same there. He has many endorsements and good wishes from Mr. King, who is retiring after 47 years in active business on the Main Line.

Congratulations to Cooper Tatum, of N. Narberth Ave. He has just received an instructorship in German at Temple University.

Guess you knew that Merion Friends' Meeting celebrated its 251st anniversary Sunday. Dr. Henry Cadbury of Harvard spoke on the work he is doing in revising the New Testament, and Sam Bunting, Clerk of Overseers at Meeting, sketched the history of the old Welsh tract on which the Meeting-house stands today.

Down at "Ye Oddity Shoppe" on Haverford Ave., I understand there are products of the Caspercraft Manufacturing Company for sale. Let me tell you something about the boys who make up that company. Seems that they come from down Overbrook way and after many months in the service, working for Uncle Sam, they decided it would be fun to be their own bosses. They went into the business of making corporate gift items, such as hanging wall brackets and table bowls. There are three boys, Hal Rusten, Al Casper and Reds Rosen.

The Boro Fire Company will be playing host to about 300 members of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association this Saturday night. They are coming down here to hold their regular business meeting, and then will have entertainment and refreshments supplied by the Boro Department.

Hope Mrs. George Supplee is feeling better soon. She's been ill for about ten days and is now at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Anyone who is interested in working over at the Red Cross workrooms may do so, according to Mrs. George Orth, head of the Narberth Red Cross. The rooms have been closed since May, but they will be open Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 4 from now on.

Understand that the Boro will have two new homes—Joe O'Connor is building them at Grove Place and Rockland Ave.

Hope John Weyman had fun when he returned to Princeton this week. He and Alan Kirsch, from Cynwyd, went back to gether after months and months in the Army Signal Corps.

It surely is good to see jeweler Barney Silver back on the job after many weeks illness.

AROUND THE TOWN
Hear that Dick and Milla Burgess have been working very hard.

Notified Wednesday

Rumors of the plan have been widespread since the June meeting of the Board when a pension system for township employees was approved, but members of the police force received their first official notification Wednesday.

At the three roll calls Wednesday, each patrolman was handed a six page mimeographed letter signed by Evan L. James, Township Manager, explaining the proposed plan in detail. Principle objections to the Commissioners' plans, as expressed privately by members of the police force, are as follows:

1. Changing the retirement age from 55 to 60.
2. Dissolving the Association after more than 20 years' successful operation at a time when the fund contains more than $300,000 and is functioning smoothly.
3. Planning to pension township employees at the age of 65, regardless of how many years they have contributed to the fund.

Under the plan approved by the Commissioners, the Police Pension Association would be dissolved and its assets maintained as a separate fund for present members of the police force. The township would assume most liabilities of the police association as provided in its bylaws. Several minor exceptions are noted.

The letter states that "present members of the Police Pension Association will receive the retirement, disability and death benefits which are now provided for them by the bylaws of the Association, and the funds of the Association will be used for the express purpose for which they have been contributed by the members and the public."

Under the plan, appeals to the

Zoning Changes Asked for Storage, Gasoline Station

Several Residents Plan to Attend Meeting to Voice Displeasure; Previous Requests Re- fused by Building Inspector and Council

J. T. Connolly Gets WCAU Promotion

Narberth Man Will Succeed Broza As Program Director

Joseph T. Connolly, 103 S. Narberth Ave., Narberth, will succeed Stan Lee Broza as program director at Radio Station WCAU, it was announced this week.

Broza, who lives in Devon, is one of America's pioneer broadcasters. He is resigning to open his own artist management bureau, but will continue as director and master of ceremonies of the Horn and Hardart "Children's Hour" on Sundays.

Connolly, a graduate of Villanova College, has been associated with WCAU since he joined the station as promotion director in 1940. He returned to the station last January 1, after three and a half years of active service in the Navy.

He is a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve and at the time of his retirement to inactive duty was attached to the staff of the Wing Commander, Naval Air Transport Service, Atlanta.

Connolly will be assisted by Norris West, who has been with the station for more than ten years as announced, commentator, producer, and program executive.

Mr. Colfelt, who died in Ivrea, Italy, Aug. 28, where he was studying, served in North Africa during the war with the American Field Service attached to the British Eighth Army. Burial was in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Alumni Association Plans Fall Activities

Plans for Fall activities and social events were discussed at a recent meeting of the Alumni Association of St. Colman's School.

Officials of the organization announced this week that the bowling league, open to all members, has been started. Membership in the association is open to all former students of the school.

Next meeting will be held Monday, October 7, at 8 P. M. in the school hall.

Two Applications
Croyle has asked for an amendment to a Borough ordinance prohibiting additional gasoline stations within Borough limits, and Vick has requested an amendment to a residential zone ordinance to use a part of his property for storing commercial vehicles and materials.

Property owners in the neighborhood of the two properties received notice of the hearings several weeks ago, and the majority of them stated they planned to attend.

Not The Thing To Do
While nearby residents are not adamant in their objections, several Croyle's applications would "not be the right thing to do."

S. H. Stringfield, of 636 Montgomery Ave., whose home is near Vick's property, stated: "I would not like to see the zoning changed for several reasons, and I would not like to see objectionable buildings every time I look out of my window."

Vick has planned to use the building for storing trucks, spraying equipment, fertilizer and peat moss.

No Objections
Several other residents near his property, however, said they had no objections to a zoning change.

In the gasoline station application, Mrs. F. A. Bonner, of 328 Woodside Ave., said there are enough in the vicinity now.

"I live about one block away from that corner," she stated, "and I certainly would not like to see any new ones built." Mrs. Bonner plans to attend the meeting.

Previous requests for permits to build gasoline stations in Narberth, made to both Building Inspector George B. Supplee, and to Borough Council, have been refused.

Croyle's petition is supported by the Tidewater Associated Oil Company.

Due to the fact that both applications require amendment of existing ordinances, they must be heard before the Borough Council. The Narberth Zoning Board of Adjustment is authorized only to grant variances to ordinances.

Sterling M. Chain, chairman of the Council Building committee, will preside at the meeting to be held at 8 P. M., in Elm Hall.

"Shooting Stars" To Appear Oct. 9

Dr. Roy K. Marshall Says Meteor Display Is Caused by Comet

With the co-operation of the Weather Man, a brilliant display of meteors or "shooting stars" will be seen in the Northwestern sky on the evening of Wednesday, October 9. Dr. Roy K. Marshall, of Narberth, director of the Field Planetarium, has announced.

The best time to see the meteors, says Dr. Marshall, will be at about 9:30 P. M. The light of the moon, almost at full, will obscure some of the meteors, but so many are expected that a large number should be visible.

The meteor display will be caused by a return visit of the Giacobini-Zinner comet, which on its last trip past the earth in 1933 caused a shower of meteors so strong

Thought you might be interested to know of a new service which the Main Line of the Pennsylv has put on for us. A man has been assigned to walk along the Line to spot unnecessary smoke belching from locomotives. Engineers are notified to try to keep smoke down so that we don't become a la Pittsburgh. . . all of which seems like a good deal from the PRR.

Stopped by to see Leon and Charlotte Pierce who are in the throes of re-doing 121 N. Narberth Ave., where they will be opening their new shop. The Cardrack—sometime next week. They'll have cards, jewelry and things like that on display, and it is going to be quite a nice shop.

Jean Sargent, daughter of the William J. Sargents, taught archery this Summer at Camp Robin Hood, Wisconsin, and her Juniors won the Junior National Camp Archery tournament.

Guess that is about all for this week—see you here same time, same place, next week. "Bye now."

The letter adds that "minor exceptions or changes in the benefits to be provided under the proposed plan from those provided under the present bylaws of the association will not be prejudicial to the members of the Association and will in several respects be definitely an advantage to them."

Needlework Guild's Membership Week To Be October 6-12

The Needlework Guild of America Membership Week will be held from October 6-12, according to an announcement made this week.

The announcement stated that "The Guild Branches give clothing and household linens to the accredited charitable institutions, thereby enabling them to use for other needs, the money which would have had to be used for clothing."

"Membership in this 61-year-old charity, known as the 'Charity' that helps other 'Charities', demands so little that anyone above the poverty line can help. Two new articles of clothing or linens once a year, that is all."

"Those who can afford to give generously often give more than two, but the humblest gift, from one who can afford little, makes a member in equally good standing."

"If there is a branch in your community, don't wait to be asked to join. There is nothing exclusive in this democratic charity, no distinction in race or creed either in those who give, or those who receive."

Erwin, who served as a Naval officer in World War I, was installed along with other newly elected officers by Elmer Ladd, Commander of the Ninth District. Erwin held the post of first vice-commander for two years, and served as chairman of the membership committee. He succeeded Ralph F. Moss, Sr.

Other officers elected were: Lester L. Lessig, first vice-commander; L. Clifford Davidson, second vice-commander; Howard A. Weaver, adjutant; Dan D. Williams, finance officer; Samuel K. White, historian; and Ralph F. Moss, Jr., service officer.

"Huge expenditures, prior to, during, and after the war have been the principle causes of current high prices," McConnell stated. "Reversal of past policies of expenditures, accompanied by a large balanced production is vital at this time."

He added, "In my judgement, a sound fiscal policy is one of the most important essentials for a healthy recovery."

McConnell praised the American Legion for their constant vigilance to prevent increasing subservient activities in this country, and also praised J. Edgar Hoover's speech at the recent Legion convention in San Francisco.

Disabled Vets in Schools
Gen. Omar Bradley has instructed all branches and regional VA offices to "exhaust every possible resource" to obtain admission of disabled veterans into schools this fall despite crowded conditions in the nation's educational institutions.

General Bradley, at the same time, called upon the schools to make special arrangements if necessary for admission of these disabled veterans. At the present time, 98,747 disabled veterans are in training under the vocational rehabilitation act and, of this number, 51,790 are in schools and 46,957 taking on-the-job training. This is six times the total number enrolled a year ago. Engineering leads all other courses for those in schools, and mechanics for those in on-the-job training.

Q. My son's war bride is in France and has a baby. Can you tell me at what age she may bring the baby to this country?—Mrs. C. A. W. Ocala, Fla.

A. The war department says that war brides with babies are permitted to come to the United States at government expense only after the baby is six months old.

Q. How long is the re-enlistment period in the women's army corps if a former WAC re-enlist will she have the same rate that she held at the time of her discharge?—WAC, Chicago.

A. All former WACs who wish to re-enter the corps must volunteer either for the duration of the war plus six months, or until June 30, 1947, unless sooner relieved for the convenience of the government. Re-enlistment will be in the army of the United States at the grade held at the time of discharge.

Q. My son was in the invasion of the Philippines. He collected a lot of invasion money. I have been told I can get it changed for a certain per cent of our money. Is that true?—P. H. Belmont, Miss.

A. The war department says that regular Philippine pesos were used for exchange during the Philippine invasion. However, if your son obtained any foreign money except Jap invasion money, he may exchange it through the army finance office, 801 Channing place, N. E., Washington, D. C.

Q. Can a veteran get sugar to open a business such as a bakery?—A. S., Cleveland, Ohio.

A. Yes, provided you meet certain basic sugar qualifications. If you have a honorable discharge and at least 90 days active service in the U. S. armed forces, and if the business will be your principal occupation and if you have owned no other business since your discharge, you should have no trouble in securing sugar for such a business. Contact the sugar rationing division of the Cleveland office of OPA.

Q. My son was reported missing in action in Germany and insofar as we know is still in an "unresolved status." Can you tell me how many soldiers who died in action have not been found or who are unidentified?—Mrs. H. G., Eureka Springs, Mo.

A. Statistics of the graves registration command of the quarter-master department show that 25,547 American soldiers are in an unresolved status. Of this number, 3,929 were buried in U. S. military cemeteries, unidentified; 18,486 are recorded as buried in known isolated locations. In addition, there are approximately 6,132 whose whereabouts are still undetermined.

Q. Will you tell me if a temporary officer in the army can waive his discharge points and request an extension of his period of service, or must he be discharged and then re-enlist?—J. E. G., Mooresville, Okla.

A. The war department says it depends upon circumstances. It is possible that his category may be exchanged for another, thereby extending his period of service. He may volunteer to remain in the army for the duration and six months and request overseas service. Such a request probably would be granted if he is physically and otherwise qualified.

Q. Can you tell me the first ship which got out of Pearl Harbor after the Jap raid there December 7, 1941?—Mrs. J. H. F., Peekin, Ill.

A. The battleship Nevada.

Q. If a lender turns down a veteran's application for a G. I. loan, what should the veteran do?—E. R., Denver.

A. It may be possible that some other lender or bank will grant the loan. It may be the first lender did not desire to make that type of loan for various reasons. It may pay to see several lenders if the loan has merit.

Villanova Varieties

Matt Kubler, star guard under Clippie Smith at Villanova, now is a Navy physician stationed at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Six members of Villanova's unbeaten 1937 are now coaching. They include the Wildcats' present mentor, Jordan Olivari.

Villanova has one of the youngest college football coaching staffs in the country, averaging 30 years of age. Head coach Jordan Olivari is 31.

Bill Sullivan and Frank Kane, regular ends on the Villanova eleven, were Navy lieutenants. Kane was a pilot. Sullivan served as an LCI skipper in the Pacific.

Ten tackle candidates are listed on the Villanova grid roster. But only one, Al Zimba, weighs less than 200 pounds. He hits 195 pounds.

Vince O'Sullivan, freshman center from Ridgely, N. Y., is the tallest member of the Villanova grid squad. He towers six feet, four inches and weighs 210 pounds.

Johnny Witach, Villanova center candidate, received the coveted Maxwell award when he played at Northeast High. The award is made each week during the season to outstanding scholastic players.

Villanova Eleven
Plays Marquette
Here Friday Night

Coach Jordan Olivari's Villanova College eleven will make its nocturnal debut of the season when it meets Marquette University on Friday night at Shibe Park, Philadelphia.

The contest will mark Coach Frank Murray's first Eastern appearance as Marquette mentor. He is well known to Quaker fans. His University of Virginia teams met Pennsylvania several times at Franklin Field.

Villanova's initial night game of the season will give student followers their first real chance to see the Wildcats in action. Several hundred who live in the Philadelphia area saw Villanova defeat Kings Point.

But with classes now underway on the Main Line, it means that many student fans will be on hand to watch Murray and Olivari match grid tactics. The Villanova students will be seated in a special section directly behind the Wildcats' bench.

Villanova and Marquette have met three times in a rivalry that started back in 1911. That year the two teams battled to a scoreless tie. They met again in 1937 and Villanova gained a 25-0 victory.

Last fall, in a game played at Buffalo, Villanova and the high scoring Marquette eleven by scoring a 6-0 triumph. Romeo Capriotti, speedy halfback who tallied the touchdown, will again face the Hilltoppers from Milwaukee.

While Marquette's opening game with Wisconsin was not successful, Villanova scouts who watched the game were impressed with the Hilltoppers' work and believe they will improve with each game.

Haverford School
At Lawrenceville

Riding the air lines to victory, Haverford School's Intercollegiate League football champions defeated Frankford High, of the Public Conference, 13-0, Friday.

The Main Liners, who will play at Lawrenceville School Saturday, scored in the second and fourth periods in the large and Wakefield Sta. game.

Haverford's huskies marched 87 yards to score as the first period blended with the second. The biggest bites in the advance were made by Jim Boyd's passes to Fritz Thornton, All-Interac end last year. One pass for 34 yards put the Main Liners on Frankford's 11.

After being set back by a penalty and assorted blunders, Haverford finally scored when Bill Fitz tossed over the left flank to Bob Spurdie, who caught it in the end zone.

In the fourth quarter, Jack Clowder, clutching an intercepted pass and sprinted 66 yards to score.

In Late Rally

Lower Merion High will seek its third straight victory in another non-league encounter Saturday afternoon at Ardmore, playing St. Joseph's High, of the Catholic League.

Victorious over Valley Forge Military Academy's highly-touted team Saturday, Lower Merion will be favored against St. Joseph's. The Hawks lost to West Catholic, 26-0, last Sunday.

Don Townsend's touchdown in the final four minutes enabled Dick Mattis' machine to defeat Valley Forge, 25-19. Until Full-back Graham Hopper brought the ball to the Cadet six-inch line on a dash around right end, thus setting up Townsend's scoring plunge, it seemed certain that the game would end in a 19-19 draw.

Lower Merion drew first blood when Townsend sped 12 yards around right end early in the game. In the same session, Bernie Stephens sprinted 27 yards off tackle and Don Shaver booted the point for a 13-0 edge.

Valley Forge struck back in the second period when Dick Doheny tossed a three-yard touchdown pass to Left End Len Marinari. Again in the third quarter the same combination clicked for 18 yards and another score.

In the fourth period, Doheny varied the receiver but not his tactics and connected with Quarterback Norm Stein to pare L. M.'s lead to 19-18. The same pair then converted the extra point with a carbon copy of the touchdown toss.

Lower Merion's third touchdown was scored by Len Shepard, who had tallied twice against West Philly only a few days earlier. Shepard broke loose on a 56-yard scoring dash.

Hopper then took over with two spectacular sprints, setting the stage for Townsend's clincher.

KNOW YOUR STATE

For more than two years along every river in Pennsylvania an intensive study has been continuing to determine the physical and chemical characteristics of the State's water supply.

Already a careful analysis has been made at one hundred and thirty-one points along the rivers during the periods of high and low flow. This will provide industry with accurate information as to the type of water available at every important point along Pennsylvania's water systems.

Part of this data has already been published by the State Planning Board, in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey and the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, the three agencies which are conducting these studies.

At some points along these streams samples are taken every day. Along certain of our rivers samples are taken at measured distances across the streams.

Today Pennsylvania is the only State in the Northeast and the only large industrial State in our Nation which has accumulated this wealth of data as to the most important of all of its industrial raw materials.

The study is continuing with a number of key sampling stations which will continue in operation throughout the year.

The information supplied by this study of the State's waters will be valuable to communities and to the State in providing information needed by new industries seeking a suitable location. It will also be valuable as a check on the various measures now being undertaken by the State government, our municipalities and our industries to reduce and finally eliminate the dumping of harmful ingredients into the State's waters.

To know the full story of Pennsylvania's waters will provide the State with fundamental information needed for its program of public improvement and industrial growth over the coming year.

Showing marked improvement in every game, Haverford High's football team will engage in its third test of the season Saturday afternoon at Norristown High's Roosevelt Field.

Norristown's Eagles upset Radnor, 6-0, last Friday and figure to prove equally tough for Bill Stinson's inexperienced army. A blocked kick paved the way for Norristown's touchdown. Carl Hunsicker ran 42 yards after smothering a punt by Jim Laferty, Radnor quarterback.

Again in the third period, Norristown marched to Radnor's one-foot line but a 15-yard penalty stymied the advance.

In opening defense of its Suburban Big Six title, Haverford, battling Abington's 110-pounders, Ghosts to a 6-6 standoff last Saturday afternoon at Abington.

The Fords scored in the first period on an aerial strike and it wasn't until late in the third quarter that Abington scored in the same fashion to gain an even break.

Buddy Arnold paved the way for the Fords' touchdown, returning John Triplett's punt 12 yards to the Abington 28. An offside penalty against the Ghosts and Charlie Anderson's first down on the 13 put the Fords in scoring position.

Two line smashes failed, but on third down Anderson took Bob Steier's 10-yard toss in the flat and fell across the goal line. Haverford was offside on the try-for extra point.

Abington, employing only four substitutes, charged back in the third period when Andy Cunningham (printed 85 yards to Haverford's 12 before Don Higgins overhauled him. Cunningham passed to Bill Brown in the end zone for the touchdown, but Dick Lischy's placement for the point went wide.

These two stars put on the pitching duel of the year two weeks ago when Creany won out, 2-0, in 10 innings. Williams would like nothing better than to atone for this setback and at the same time give his mates the title.

If E. goes to the seventh game, Narberth may likely rely upon Charlie Schriener, who was the winner of last Sunday's game. George Seeber or Cliff Williamson would be Drexel Hill's hope although it is not unlikely that Creany might try an "iron-man" stunt and pitch both games, if necessary.

Williamson was outpitched by Williams in Saturday's game, being touched for 11 hits while Williams gave up but eight, but it was anybody's ball game until Williams' double scored Yeasley, who had tripled, with the run that broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

On Sunday Schriener limited the Hillers to seven hits, Seeber accounting for two of them, while Narberth pounded Creany and Charlie Gunther for nine blows, the former giving up five.

Creany pitched hitless ball for three innings and was ahead 3-0 when Tony Bonder's single that opened Narberth's fourth ignited a rally that saw the Borough score five big runs and send the Hillers' ace to cover. After all five runs scored, Gunther finally came to the rescue and got the side out, but he also gave up four runs in succeeding innings.

Bonder, Shuckman, Tabor and Arnone each had three hits for the weekend.

HANDY ANDY EVENS IT UP

Don Higgins, Haverford High backfield ace, is about to be tackled by Abington's Andy Cunningham in the third quarter of their Suburban Big Six duel Saturday at Abington. Earlier in the same quarter, Cunningham raced 65 yards before Higgins brought him down. Haverford gained a 6-6 draw...

Narberth Tossers Can Clinch
19th Main Line League Title
With Victory This Weekend

Resembling the champs of old with the chips down, Narberth has made a brilliant comeback in the Main Line Baseball League's championship series and needs only one victory this weekend to nail its 19th pennant to the mast.

One down in the best-out-of-seven series before last week's contests, Narberth squared the series with a 5-2 victory on Saturday and then took the crucial fifth game by blasting its jinx, Jack (Lefty) Creany while in the process of fashioning a 9-4 victory.

This decisive triumph over Creany, who had beaten the Borough twice, served as a tonic to the Davesmen, who are convinced now that they'll be able to end the series come Saturday.

Drexel Hill's co-managers, Joe Irvin and George Passmore, undoubtedly will send back Creany against the Borough in the sixth game in an effort to extend the series and Narberth is just as sure to come up with its ace, Jack Williams, in an effort to end it.

These two stars put on the pitching duel of the year two weeks ago when Creany won out, 2-0, in 10 innings. Williams would like nothing better than to atone for this setback and at the same time give his mates the title.

If E. goes to the seventh game, Narberth may likely rely upon Charlie Schriener, who was the winner of last Sunday's game. George Seeber or Cliff Williamson would be Drexel Hill's hope although it is not unlikely that Creany might try an "iron-man" stunt and pitch both games, if necessary.
